yet than the greater part of them had gone down, they continued to go down at intervals until 11¾ minutes past 6 when none went down until 16 minutes past 6 when a single bird passed in and this was the last one that I saw. The last three that went in would pass a dozen of times over the top of the chimney each time nearly stopping in but hesitating as though they feared the chimney was too full to hold any more, nearly all the time the birds already in the chimney kept up a twittering which although it was impossible to hear could be distinctly seen from the house I could distinctly hear + this they kept up until 21 minutes past 8 + I do not know how much later for as I could no longer see the birds of any more I left. Many of them must have come from a great distance as this town does not seem to have more than its share of resident birds of this species

August 7th 1866

This evening I saw the swallows again go down at 6.30. Swallows were flying over the town here & there but they did not begin to collect around the chimney until nearly 7. At 6.59 the first one went down. They continued to increase until 7.11½ when the greater number as well as the last all the birds nearly went down but by half passing on until from 7.30 to 7.35 a very few of them was collected which kept circling round the chimney and then a number of the birds would fly off together into the chimney and at 7.40 they had nearly all gone down. After that I saw (two in number) go down together at 7.55 The rest which would sometimes keep circling round in a confused

PIC-NIC PARTIES

Are reminded that there is no better place for obtaining OUT-DOOR ENJOYMENT than on Mount Holyoke, and the proprietor wishes all to feel that they are not under the necessity of dining at the House. He will be pleased to see those who prefer to bring their own Refreshments, and will give them all the attention that may be desired.

Parties or individuals will find seats and tables in the Grove, which is only a few rods from the house, and much secluded, where they can partake of their refreshments, or they can be accommodated at the house.

THE HALL FOR COTILLON PARTIES.

In the second story of the house is a LARGE HALL, twenty by fifty-five feet, well adapted for Cotillon Parties. There is ample room for dancing, and during the day parties furnishing their own music can be accommodated without extra expense. The Hall can be obtained for Evening Parties at reasonable rates, if application is made several days in advance.

THERE IS A GOOD STABLE

At the foot of the Railway, and competent hostlers constantly in attendance, and visitors may be certain that the best of care will be taken of their horses during their trip to the summit. Price for feed and care 50 cts. each.
